

The Paddle Australia Canoe Slalom Technical Committee (PACSLTC) met on 9 November 2020 to discuss the 2021 Paddle Australia Canoe Slalom Championships scheduled for January 2021. The primary focus of this meeting was to determine whether the competition should proceed, when measured against the objectives of each as described in the PACSLTC's position statement.

2021 Paddle Australia (PA) Canoe Slalom Championships, 8th – 10th January, Brady's, Tasmania

As stated in the position statement the purpose for holding the Paddle Australia Canoe Slalom Championships is to provide an international standard event for Australian canoe slalom athletes.

With this in mind the PACSLTC, in consultation with the host organising committee, discussed the limited access to training that canoe slalom paddlers have had leading up to the event as well as the difficulty and uncertainty of travelling interstate, particularly to Tasmania.

With the previous communication from Paddle Australia's Canoe Slalom High Performance program confirming that the 2021 PA Canoe Slalom Championships will not be a 2021 Canoe Slalom Team selection event, the PACSLTC carefully considered whether the Canoe Slalom Championships should go ahead on the scheduled date in January or at another time later in the year.

After a lengthy discussion it was recommended by the PACSLTC that, for the best interests of athletes and in order to ensure that any Canoe Slalom Championships delivered is fair and purposeful, the 2021 PA Canoe Slalom Championships be cancelled, with the running of the competition to recommence in 2022. In reaching this decision, the PACSLTC considered alternatives including postponement of the event or change of venue. Paddle Australia has accordingly decided to cancel the 2021 PA Canoe Slalom Championships. PA thanks the PACSLTC for its time and dedication in working through the relevant issues and in reaching a recommendation which, while disappointing for potential participants, recognises what the Canoe Slalom Championships stand for.

The local organising committee in Brady's, Tasmania will be running a local competition on these dates, so it is encouraged that those paddlers who can attend do take part in the event. There will also be an additional opportunity to train at Brady's in April 2021.

The date and location of the 2022 PA Canoe Slalom Championships is yet to be determined.
